16 Trampled to Death as Japs Greet Emperor

TOKYO, (AP) — At least 16 persons were trampled to death and 30 were injured today as an estimated 700,000 subjects swarmed around the Imperial Palace to extend New Year's greetings to Emperor Hirohito, the newspaper Asahi said.

Kyodo News Agency said the vast throng got out of hand at about 3:30 p. m. (1:30 a. m. EST) the deadline for singing the Imperial resister and offering best wishes to Hirohito.

The crowd swarmed toward the gates of the palace grounds as police tried to bar the entrance at the deadline, Kyodo said.

Thousands who had not yet had a chance to sign the register tried to push through. Men, women and children fell under the feet of the onrushing crowd.

There was no immediate word on whether any Americans were among the dead and injured.

Former War Prisoner's Wife Attacked

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. UP — A former prisoner of the Communists in Korea said today the attempted kidnapping of his wife may have been of a Red plot of revenge.

Master Sgt. Ronald Adams, whose pretty 26-year-old wife was dragged from home yesterday said, Communists may want to get even with him because he repudiated statements attributed to him while a prisoner by a Communist newspaper.

Adams was seized at the door of the couple's third floor apartment yesterday morning by a stranger who had knocked. The man muffled her outcries and dragged her downstairs and out of the building.

The woman was released when her brother, Charles L. Wilkins 30 heard a commotion in the hall and ran from his apartment on the first floor. The would-be abductor and a second man fled in a pickup truck.

American Says Pvt. Cox to Soon Be Free

BERLIN, UP — U. S. Army officers said today that Pvt. Homer Cox will be free in about 10 days to claim the hand of the red-haired Austrian girl who agreed to marry him when they both were prisoners in Russia.

The 33-year-old GI from Oklahoma City, who was released by Russians Tuesday after more than four years of Soviet imprisonment is being held here while the army investigates his story that he was dragged and shanghaied from West Berlin by Communist agents.

Army officers said there appears to be no reason to doubt Cox's "straight forward" story. They said the investigation is "merely routine," and predicted that he will be released in 10 days or so.

Inge Brenner, Cox's 26-year-old fiancée, was released a few months before he was and has since been recuperating from the effects of Russian prison life. He sent her a New Year's telegram, saying "I love you very much . . . hope to see you soon."

In Vienna's British sector, Fraulein Brenner said the telegram was the most wonderful New Year's present in the world.

Fraulein Brenner, who says she was kidnapped from West Vienna by Soviet agents in much the same way and about the same time that Cox was snatched in West Berlin, first met him at a prison camp near Rybinsk in Russia's Ural Mountains.

The Rybinsk camp was considered the last stop on the way to freedom, and the hard-eyed Soviet guards were relatively lenient. Fraulein Brenner says it was "love at first sight" when she and Cox met in the prison canteen, although neither could speak the other's language.

Cox and other prisoner-friends of Fraulein Brenner made a "sort of cake" to celebrate her 26th birthday Sept. 21, and gave home made presents. A few days later, Cox asked her to marry him.

"I accepted his proposal at once," she said. "Now my only wish is to see him soon, and to be married as soon as possible."

Auto Hits Pole, Is Damaged

An auto driven by Perry Purdie hit a telephone pole in the 700 block East on Highway 67 yesterday resulting in no injuries but the vehicle's grill and fender were damaged. Investigating officers said the youth apparently just wasn't looking where he was driving.

PW Claims More of 22 Will Return

SEOUL, Saturday, Jan. 2 (AP) — Claude J. Batchelor who asked repatriation from a Red compound yesterday told a news conference today he was the leader of the 22 Americans held in Indian custody. He recommended that the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission flush out the compound in a raid for secret weapons and to investigate conditions in the compound.

Batchelor, whose decision to return to the American side was influenced by pleading letters from his Japanese wife, was handed over to the U. N. Command yesterday. The 22-year-old corporal is from Kermit, Tex.

When he met newsmen today Batchelor had changed from the blue Chinese uniform he wore at the exchange point yesterday to a U. S. Army uniform.

In answer to a question he declared he would recommend that the NNRC shake down the pro-Communist compound.

Later, under questioning, Batchelor said there were other leaders in the camp—indicating there were factions.

In the Communist prison camps in the north, Batchelor said, he was known as "a progressive that didn't seal."

By this he meant he had a reputation for believing communist ideas but for not "telling" on his buddies.

Two Wrecks Leave Two Persons Hurt

Otis Gray of Hope suffered a foot injury late yesterday following the collision of a truck which he was driving and an auto driven by F. V. Porterfield of Washington on Highway 67, near Fulton.

Investigating State Officer Guy Downing gave this version of the accident: Mr. Porterfield's car hit the left front fender of the Butter-nut bread truck. Mr. Gray applied the brakes of the truck and a wheel locked, throwing the vehicle into the rising over Bridge Creek.

The truck was badly damaged but the auto had very light damage.

In another accident at 1 a. m. today, three miles north of Prescott on Highway 67 an auto driven by Joseph A. Willmot, stationed at San Antonio, Texas, hit a cow. Willmot's head smashed the windshield of the auto which was heavily damaged. He was taken to a Prescott hospital but was expected to be released today, said Guy Downing, investigating officer.

Only 2 Traffic Deaths in Arkansas

By The Associated Press
The news today in Arkansas' violent death picture is not how many, but the surprising lack of traffic fatalities so far over the New Year's holiday.

Only two deaths have been reported since 6 p. m., Thursday — one by traffic and one by suffocation. Arkansas State Police headquarters said today they had no reports of any traffic deaths yesterday.

Dwight L. Rainey, a 74-year-old Little Rock veteran of the Spanish-American War, suffocated yesterday in a smoldering fire in a warehouse below his second-floor room. He was dead when firemen removed him from the building. Rainey was the first reported death in Arkansas for 1954.

The traffic victim was Neal Cawood, a 28-year-old Bentonville trucker. Cawood was killed when his truck overturned on a curve on Highway 100 north of Bentonville.

The state's violent death toll stands at 16 for the week which ends at midnight Sunday.

Russia Still Can Stall Meet Set for Jan. 25

By John M. Hightower

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. officials expressed hope today that the Berlin foreign minister meeting actually will open Jan. 25, but they said the Russians still can stall the conference if they wish.

Strong suspicion about Russia's tactics persist because one of Moscow's main purposes in the project is believed to be laying French action on the proposal European Defense Community and so to delay Western plans for controlled rearmament of West Germany.

Russia can forward this aim by keeping alive hope of successful East-West negotiations, either by promising a conference usually holding them. The brighter the prospects of international peace of negotiation, the less pressure, presumably, Frenchmen would feel to accept EDC and thereby abandon their deep rooted opposition to any revival of German military strength.

Notes which the Western Powers handed the Soviet Foreign Office yesterday accepted Jan. 25 as the opening date for the Berlin meeting agreed also to a Russian proposal that the place of the meeting be determined by Big Four officials in Germany and said that there is no point now any further talk about an agenda for the conference since the ministers themselves will be meeting soon.

Police Plagued by 546 Auto Violations

Activities of a Police Department vary almost daily but a survey of the past year indicates that a good portion of the department's time was devoted to automobile violations totaling 546.

Chief Willis went through 1953 records and issued the following breakdown on the violations:

A total of 140 accidents were investigated.

Passing in restricted zone 9. Failure to yield right-of-way 9. Reckless driving 8. Operating car without brakes 14. Hazardous driving 17. Improper lights 22. Running stop signs 55. No drivers license 83. Speeding 133.

Good Intentions, Especially After New Years, Are Always Plentiful But Rarely Kept

BY HAL BOYLE

New York, (AP) — If the road to Hell is paved with good intentions, there is a fine new six-lane super-highway today between here and Hades.

It is paved with the New Year's resolution of perhaps 100 million Americans to lead better lives. Practically everybody makes these resolutions except women small children, and non-talking dogs—all of whom either are already perfect or don't know how to spell the word resolution.

The only other exceptions are a few scattered old diehard scoundrels who are trying how to find a way to lead a worse life rather than a better one.

If all the good resolutions that are made at this seasons were really kept, the sale of aspirin would fall to almost nothing, would the divorce rate, and the churches would be hanging out "standing room only" signs.

But, of course, most of these high-resolves don't last. If each of these self-improvement artists broke a bone every time he broke one of his good resolutions, we'd have to tear down all our national forests to build crutches and splints.

The trouble with most personal reform programs is they set a Mr. Everest goal, where the average man finds the air too thin to breathe. Also he gets lonely up there on his peak of purity.

"I'm going to give up smoking and drinking and frittering away money," this fellow writes in a memo to himself on New Year's Day. "I'm going to quit picking on my kids, yapping at my wife, and telling the boss his faults."

So he goes rambling on until he has a list of a dozen or so resolutions. What is wrong with them? Only this: All his resolutions have to do with things he is going to quit doing or things he is going to give up. But he doesn't quit anything positive he is going to do to take up the time he used to spend doing the wrong things.

The results: Before long he finds his new virtue as boring as a twice-seen grade "B" movie on television. He becomes restless be-

U. N. Endorses Indian Count, Reds Protest

PANMUNJOM (AP) — The U. N. Command today gave the Indian Custodian Command a sweeping endorsement of its head count of Chinese prisoners of last Thursday — a count the Communists angrily protested.

The U. N. Command said it regards "as a normal and necessary administrative action" the head count which gave 138 Chinese Communist POWs a chance to return to their homes.

The formal U. N. statement said "If this checking of the prison of war rosters affords some opportunity, an opportunity to repatriation this is in conformity with United Nations Commission policy that every effort should be made to ensure that every prisoner in the custody of the Indian Custodian force should have every opportunity to make a free choice as to where he wishes to go."

The statement diametrically opposed the stand of South Korean Foreign Minister Pyun Yung who protested the head count on behalf of his government.

An Indian came late Thursday returned 138 Chinese prisoners the Communists out of 4,380 prisoners questioned.

The Indians asked no question. They simply called prisoners to the enclosures 10 compounds at a time, separated the numbers and wrote.

New Schedule of Hunting Seasons

LITTLE ROCK, ARK. — Commission announced today the new 1954-55 hunting season for the night of January 2, 1954.

Previously, the hunting season began on January 1, 1954. The new schedule is a result of a revision in the hunting season's action after a wide-spread protest from field personnel and hunters throughout the state.

In the remaining days of the hunting period, hunters are requested to save the right wing of the date and county in which they were taken, and turn them over to the Game Warden or send them directly to the Commission. By so doing, the Commission is undertaking to determine the reproduction ratio on the white quail this year.

Several other changes in regulations are to become effective January 1, 1954. Commercial fishermen are advised that on this date, limits on commercial fish will be as follows: a 16-inch minimum length on any species of fish (except those commonly known as brown, yellow and black head) and on all buffalo, a 22-inch minimum length on paddlefish. There shall be no size limit on other commercial species.

Another order changes the open season on bullfrogs to permit the taking of them from May 1 to December 31, both dates inclusive. The 1953 season of bullfrogs, April 15 and will continue through December 31, 1953.

A final order to become effective January 1, 1954, permits those persons raising bullfrogs under provisions of a Game Breeder's Permit to ship bullfrogs to within or without the state as long as all other provisions of the Game Breeder's Permit are met.

Hunting Calendar
Rabbits: September 15 to January 31, inclusive. Limit 8 Possession 24.

Squirrels: October 1 to December 31, inclusive. Limit 6 Possession 12.

No Lynchings in '53 Says Negro College

TUSKEGEE, Ala., Jan. 1.—For the second year in a row, there were no lynchings in the United States in 1953, Tuskegee Institute announced yesterday.

But the famed Negro college said it is dropping its annual lynching report for a more realistic index of race relations.

Hereafter racial progress will be measured with a new formula using economic, political, educational and similar factors, said Dr. L. H. Foster, Tuskegee's president. Dr. Foster said mob violence is no longer a valid index of race relations and that lynchings have lost their significance as a yardstick of race relations because of changes in the status of the Negro and the development of other extra-legal means of control, such as bombings, incendiarism, threats and intimidation, etc.

The Tuskegee president said the study will like compare white and Negro standards in four categories—economic relationship, voter participation, education, and employment.

Although the death rate from mob action has steadily gone down through the years, the nation escaped only once before without lynch slaying. That was in 1952.

Neckline treatments in the new resort fashions are generally high, wide and handsome and provide more cover-up than in seasons past. These daytime designs for dressy occasions all place interest above bodice. Gold silk surah, dotted with white, is used by Hannah Troy for dress (left) with wide V neckline. Tabs at each shoulder point up the V. Skirt is full and can be worn with a petticoat. Shaped beige linen costume by Grabois (center) has sleeveless, slim dress with wide neckline topped by little bolero heavily beaded in pearls, pale blue iridescent sequins and rhinestones. Linen and satin come together in pale pink dress (right) by this same designer. Wide, high neckline is piped in satin with piping repeated on brief sleeves.

ROOM FOR MANY MORE—A "pigeonhole-parking" garage in downtown Los Angeles, Calif., may be a partial solution to the city's vexing parking problem. Shown from the outside, the garage can accommodate 128 cars in a 60-by-90-foot area. The auto enters and the driver is free to do as he pleases. A lift deposits the car in a proper "pigeonhole." The garage is five stories high, and is so mechanized it requires only one attendant.

SEAL OF APPROVAL—Perfect harmony is demonstrated by this jazz-loving seal and his trainer, Armand Guerre, as they perform at the Merdano circus in Paris, France. The sea beast that played in the "Greatest Show on Earth," can supposedly play the harmonica, cry with music and juggle perfectly.

DOROTHY DIX

Dear Miss Dix: Two weeks before we were to be married, my fiancé disappeared. After a six-month engagement. I know his parents disapproved of our marriage, and I think that's why he jilted me. I haven't seen or heard from him in over a month. Should I forget him?

Answer: It would be a bit impossible to completely forget a man you loved and intended to marry, but the next best thing is to shelve him as far back in your mind as possible. At the moment you are so hurt that relegating him to the past won't be too difficult. It probably would be quite useless to hope for his return, and after such a cowardly action, it wouldn't even be advantageous to have him back.

Dear Miss Dix: I've been going with a man for several months and, though we are in love I know he will never consider marriage. He has a chronic nervous ailment and he claims it would be unfair for him to marry. I love him so much that it wouldn't make any difference to me. How can I convince him to see things my way?

Answer: Perhaps the young man is right. The nature of his illness may be such that marriage would be, to say the least, unwise. To get the facts straight, ask him if you might talk to his doctor. A frank, professional discussion of the case will do a lot to settle your mind.

Dear Miss Dix: The boy I like is my age, 15, but he only telephones me occasionally and won't talk to me in school if there's anyone else around. Do you suppose he doesn't consider me good enough to talk to in the presence of his friends? My mother sympathizes with me because she had a somewhat similar problem when she was a girl.

Answer: Bravo for Mom! She can still remember the problems of her own youth. To many parents never seem to recall that they, too, were once adolescents. I'm sure your mother's conclusions are sound enough to guide you. A boy of 15 is invariably a shy creature, and perhaps the only reason this boy isn't overfriendly in public is because he's afraid of being teased. Give him time to acquire a bit more poise.

Dear Miss Dix: I'm a single girl, 21, in love with a married man.

He's expecting a divorce, and in the meantime we've been living together. Lately, he seems to be changing toward me, and I wonder if he's thinking of going back to his wife. From all I've heard, she's a wonderful woman and that she left him because of me.

Answer: If you're suffering the pangs of conscience, my dear, please heed them. There is absolutely no happiness for you in this alliance. Isn't it better to leave the man now and retain your self-respect, rather than to wait until he gets tired of you and returns to his wife? If you marry him you will surely find regret and resentment growing in him from day to day. He belongs to his wife and the only decent thing for you to do is to let him return to her.

Dear Miss Dix: I'm 18, and have been married to a man 35 for three years. I just discovered that he wears a toupee, and have been unhappy ever since.

Answer: You've discovered one of the penalties of marrying a man much older than yourself. Of course your husband should have told you of his baldness before you were married, but is it so important now? If you've loved him for three years, the fact that he wears a toupee shouldn't alter your feelings.

Dear Miss Dix: Although I am not allowed to date, I'm in love with a serviceman who comes to see me almost every week end. The trouble is that he dates other girls, too. If he loves me, I don't think he should date anyone else, do you?

Answer: In the first place, Beth, you have absolutely no reason to assume that he loves you. He calls to see you, writes occasional letters, but has never mentioned love. It seems to me you're taking too much for granted. I don't think you are in love with him, either the idea of love has you slightly befuddled, but the boy himself is only an individual about whom you fix the idea. When you have permission to date, you'll feel the same way about many another lad.

Tibet has about 500,000 priests, the boy himself is only one-eighth of the population.

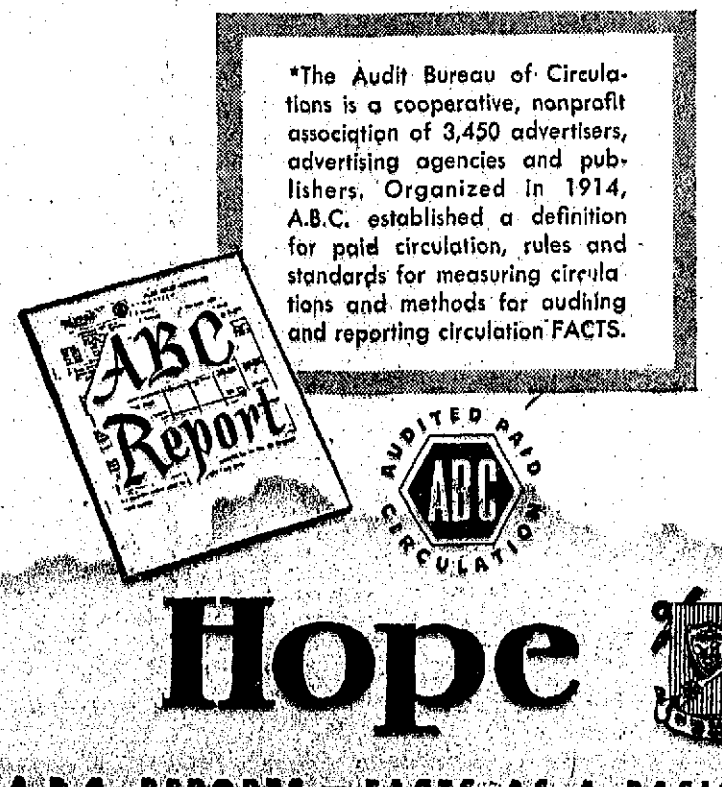

Oh, WHERE is my wandering ad tonight?

That's a fair question and deserves a factual answer. When you buy newspaper advertising you have an investment in every copy of the paper that carries your sales message because the circulation of the newspaper is also the circulation of your advertising. So, what you get in return for your advertising dollars depends on the newspaper's circulation. In order that you may buy space in this newspaper as you would make any sound business investment, we hold membership in the Audit Bureau of Circulations,* well known to advertisers and publishers as A.B.C. Only publications with paid circulation—evidence that people want the paper—are eligible for membership.

At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors comes to our office to make a thorough audit of our circulation records. The FACTS that he obtains as a result of the audit are published in A.B.C. reports which tell you: How much circulation we have; Where it goes; How obtained; How much people pay for our paper, and many other FACTS that you need in order to KNOW what you get for your advertising money.

It's never necessary for our advertisers to ask, "Oh, where is my wandering ad?" They get the FACTS from our A.B.C. report and KNOW. Ask for a copy today.
